Lear-Hugley

On Tuesday June 2, 1908 at 9 o'clock in the morning in marriage of Miss Adelaide Lear to Mr. Charles Belt Hugley was solemnized at St. Jude's church, the Rev. Fr. J. Noble officiating.

Owing to the illness of Mrs. Katherine Lear, the bride's mother, the wedding was made as simple as possible there being no attendants. Mr. Louis Lear and Mr. Edmund Jaeger acted as ushers. The altar was made beautiful by willing and friendly hands and the church which holds so many tender associations for the bride looked its loveliest in her honor.

Having planned to leave for St. Louis on the morning train Miss Lear was appropriately gowned in a light tailored suit with beautifully matching accessories. She carried a prayer book and hymnal, the wedding gift of her dear friend, Miss Anna Boulware.

The bride will be missed greatly in Monroe in church, club and social circles where she was always a gracious and graceful helper and an accomplished entertainer. She has so many good qualities as home maker and has been such a loving and dutiful sister and daughter that Mr. Hugley is to be congratulated upon winning her. Mr. Hugley is well known here and has won much admiration and hosts of friends while in charge of our school. He is a clever and ambitious young man and is now State High School Examiner in connection with the State Superintendent of Education, in Jefferson City where he will take his young bride to live.

We wish both of them the happiness they deserve and hope for them a life full of love, joy and prosperity. **

New Things

Bert Bull has had 425 lineal feet of granitoid walk put in around his home corner North Main and Court streets.

Dr. T. Proctor and Rush Turner have had 80 and 50 feet respectively, of granitoid walk put in at corner of Main on Winter street extending west. It is a vast improvement and that is just what ought to be done on the opposite side of the street.

Joseph Smith is re-roofing his home.

William Fanning is shingling his residence.

The Paul estate two business rooms on Main street is being re-roofed.

Phil Tewell is putting a fresh top on his home.

Henry Kendrick is adding a porch to his home.

Ed Sagister is adding one room to his house.

E. Roland is enlarging his home by the addition of one room.

Henderson & Son are re-roofing their ice house at the poultry plant.

The Sisters.

Sisters Veronica, Philomena, Clemant and Stephena left last night for the Mother Heart, New York, where they will spend the summer. During their absence a large room will be added to the Sister's home to be used as a chapel.

Every hour that you put off coming to The Big Clothing Store in this the king of clot bing sales of Monroe City you are losing an opportunity to get what you want. Lay aside less weighty matters and come.

A Howard county farmer has already sold his 200-acre wheat crop for eighty-two and a half cents a bushel, to be delivered July. Even the farmers deal somewhat in "futures."—Brookfield Gazette

Here a corker. Vint Spalding has a fancy Short Horn cow or did have, that has taught him and ought to teach others a lesson. When about due to calve, she was turned on fine grass and milking process was forgotten until the udder really bursted open from the strain of milk on the inside. It was so full that it could not stand the pressure.

Those Graves.

Here is a list of the Odd Fellows who are sleeping in St. Jude cemetery, up-to-date: B. Swearingen, S. H. Hallock, B. F. Hickman, Capt. B. C. Bishop, William Chadwick, Dr. F. S. Turner, J. T. Christian, Felix Wunch, Rev. J. C. Davis, J. T. Ragland, George Schofield, J. J. Goetze.

Those graves are all marked with a metal marker, for two reasons, first, to show they were members of the I. O. O. F. second, so there can be no trouble in finding all of those graves Memorial or Decoration Day that the graves may not be overlooked.

Now here is a suggestion for the U. D. C's.

The war is over and there is no one but you to attend to a duty that should be one of love. See that there is a metal marker placed at the grave of every Confederate, Federal and Mexican grave so they can be found by strangers and then when Memorial Day comes each year a little Star Spangled Banner may be placed in those metal markers as a token of love and respect. We would suggest that it be done now. Because there are a very few of the old soldiers left with us who know where those graves are.

So let the U. D. C's take up a collection of $15, they cost $3 per dozen, and get five dozen markers and then Sam G. Demaree and George Balzer will see that they are placed where they should be.

None Better.

Monroe Anderson and Alex Montgomery have bought the Gons & McAllister stock of groceries, fruits and confections under the opera house. We hardly know what to say about them for they are so well known.

Both young men were reared in this city and both from boyhood to young manhood have practically spent their lives in a grocery-house, therefore know the business and know the trade of this city. They are moral, they are upright, pleasant and accommodating, the qualities that go to make successful business men. Here's to you boys.

Jones—Moore.

One cannot some times always tell just when a thing is going to happen, even when one is looking for it.

So here is a partial surprise. Miss Margaret Jones has been spending two months at Hale and she and J. T. Moore were known to be just a wee bit sweet on each other in fact so sweet that they decided that nothing but better or for worse would do so they went to Quincy May 25, 1908 and now they are one. The happy couple spent the first of this week in the city with Mrs. Moore's sister, Mrs. Layson Tooley. May the May roses always be theirs.

Saturday it looked a good deal more like wholesaling clothing than than retailing it At the Big Clothing Store.

Mesdames James Garnett and Cooper Reager, of Heather have been with friends in this city.

HOLY ROSARY SCHOOL

Sisters of St. Domine in Charge.

The graduating exercises of the Holy Rosary School took place Thursday evening 28th day of May 1908.

These exercises reflect great credit upon the good training of the Sisters in charge. The Grand March was ably executed by the High School young ladies with grace and precision. The Japanese Drill and the Jolly Tars were very attractive. The Martyrdom of Father Joques by Iroquois was well represented. Misses Anna Keithley and Frankie Lu Elliott, Masters James Hagar and Paul Murphy acting their parts well.

The Valedictory was forcibly and clearly delivered by Miss Cordie Hoare.

Father Mullen conferred the diplomas upon the graduates, Misses Cordie Hoare and Anna Keithley and T. A. Yates.

Owing to the unavoidable absence of Rev Joseph Tettemer who was to deliver the address, Father Mullen took his place and delivered a short telling address upon the "Work of Catholic Education."

What enhanced the entertainment was the school orchestra of 18 pieces under the leadership of Father Cunningham. This is a new attractive feature which gained the applause of the very large audience present. Selections were rendered from Lavallo Verdi and other authors.

The Anvil Chorus was well executed and much praised.

Thus closed a very successful year for Holy Rosary school. The attendance has increased and the proficiency of the pupils was well maintained. With another year like this Father Mullen fears he will be forced to try and enlarge the school. Another class room and another Sister are absolutely necessary to meet demands of the school. All the patrons of the school are delighted and pleased with its increasing success. **

Paralyzed.

Friday night Mrs. William Mudd of south of city, called her daughter and said: "Get up and light a lamp. I have a terrible pain in the back of my head." The daughter arose, lighted the lamp and turned to the mother only to find her unconscious. The paralysis was complete and it is thought she cannot recover.

The great and only Jefferson Davis Crigler, the one that wanted Santa Claus to bring him a toot-toot and a big stick of red candy, blew in from Denver, Colo., last week to visit the homefolks for two weeks. It is doubtful if there ever was a more general favorite in the city than Jeff. To know him was to like him.

We lead as we always do. A yelp on a back trail is an indication of a very slow dog. Very respectfully,

WM. A. SULLIVAN,

Frank Ash and wife of Moberly, have been the guests of their friends, H. C. Null and wife.
